of individuals who utilize an LER enhance their economic mobility.

An LER is a Learning and Employment Record where you can digitally store your formal and informal education and employment history. LER.me is a free LER platform that allows users to effectively communicate their skills and credentials to employers and educational institutions.

of individuals with LERs have a higher chance of being shortlisted for job interviews.

Make Your Skills Count

60%

of companies are adopting a skills-based hiring model.

LER.me provides a secure, digital space to store your credentials and employment records.

Your Skills Matter

LERs help support skills-based hiring practices, allowing employers to focus on specific skills rather than traditional degrees. By providing a comprehensive view of an individual's capabilities, LERs help reduce the bias in hiring.
